COLLEGE ROADMAP FOR Elvis Ellisor

STUDENT ID# 123456789 | CLASS OF 2020 | Produced on September 14, 2019

This report is intended to forecast your journey through high school, to give you some directions to help you get to your destination, and to provide you with ways to track your progress as you go.

We have reviewed your past attendance, grades, and test scores to predict a preliminary lane assignment for your future self.

Keep in mind, your lane assignment is not set in stone. You are in the driver's seat, and you can determine what route you take to your desired destination.

Where does this information come from?

This report is based on how students who had similar grades, attendance, and test scores as you performed after they graduated from high school. This information can provide helpful guidance for how you can prepare for success after high school. Your future behavior is equally, if not more, important as your past performance in determining how you meet your goals for after high school. We have used your academic records, information from the California College System, and current research to make customized recommendations for you.

Is this report accurate?

There are a few things that could cause this information to be inaccurate, such as dual enrollment, grades that aren't reported, or credits earned from different school districts. If something is inaccurate, please contact us at collegeroadmap@edanalytics.org or talk to your school counselor.

More ways to get ahead:Success is a marathon, not a sprint.

When you make one small change and stick to it for a few weeks, you're building a habit. What is one positive habit you'd like to develop?

Find a mentor.

Find an adult you trust in your school or your community who can help you get organized for success in school and beyond. Seek out the advice of someone you admire or want to be more like--they likely have a lot of experience and advice they are excited to share with you.

Talk to a career counselor.

Discover what types of tasks you enjoy, then talk to a career counselor to learn more about how your preferences could become your career. This might help you get motivated to do better in classes you'll need to succeed.

Plan ahead for college.HAVE YOU CONSIDERED THESE SCHOOLS?

* These are estimates. Admission to institutions are based on multiple criteria, including how selective a particular major is and competitiveness of the current application pool. The CSU Index for admission changes based on these factors.

Did you know college can be free?

Thanks to financial aid programs (bit.ly/2D0LuSY), more than 1.3 million low- and middle-income students attend California's public colleges and universities each year without having to pay tuition. If you've got good grades and test scores, you may qualify for financial aid.

- Fill out your FAFSA®: studentaid.ed.gov/sa/fafsa
- Apply for the California Promise Grant: bit.ly/2H9bRHt
- Talk to your school counselor to learn more.

Things to know:FAFSA®

Complete the FAFSA® (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) form to apply for financial aid if you want to attend a four-year college or community college.

SBAC

The Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium (SBAC) Assessment is a standardized test that measures your performance in math and in English Language Arts. It is administered in grades 3 through 8 and in grade 11.

CSU GPA

CSU INDEX

The CSU Index will help tell if you're eligible for admission to a CSU or UC. It is calculated based on your grades in your A–G courses, and your PSAT or SAT scores.

EAP

The Early Assessment Program (EAP) lets you know if you are ready for college-level work in English and mathematics at the end of your junior year of high school.
